AFFECTED PRODUCTS	V60 Ventilators that have a serial number listed in the attachment.
PROBLEM DESCRIPTION	The touchscreen must be used to change certain therapy settings. The touchscreens in affected units may become frozen and fail to respond to touch commands. Consequently, if a patient requires a change in a ventilator therapy setting, e.g., FiO₂, the change could not be made. Although it would be immediately apparent to the user that the changes cannot be made, there is no advance warning of touchscreen failure.
HAZARD INVOLVED	If the touchscreen on the V60 Ventilator malfunctions, therapy adjustment is delayed because the ventilator settings cannot be changed. A delay in therapy adjustment may lead to a drop in the patient's SpO₂ level and subsequently result in Hypercarbia and/or Hypoxemia. Note: The V60 ventilator will continue to function at the predetermined and accepted settings required to support the patient. In addition, patient settings, alarms, on-screen warnings, and waveforms are accurately displayed, visible, and alarms are annunciated.

HOW TO IDENTIFY AFFECTED PRODUCTS

Alternatively, the serial number of the ventilator may also be accessed/reviewed from the display while the ventilator is in operation. Select the Menu tab at the bottom of the screen then select Vent Info. (See Figure 2 and 3)
